

2 SUSPECTS IN KIDNAPING CASE ARE CAPTURED

14 MONTH HUNT FOR MEN ENDS AT OTTAWA, ILL.

Charged With Abduction Of Wealthy Canadian Brewer

Ottawa, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—A trap set by U. S. Justice Department agents snapped shut today on two alleged kidnapers of John S. Labatt, wealthy Canadian brewer, ending a 14 month hunt over most of North America.

The two were nabbed after a lively street chase in downtown Ottawa. Their arrest was officially confirmed later by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Justice Department's bureau of investigation in Washington.

The agents were waiting when one of the suspects, who they named as Russell Knowles, of Detroit—named as one of three ringleaders in the kidnaping plot—walked into a hotel here this morning.

Knowles came to visit his alleged crony in crime, who registered at the hotel as John J. Webber of Gary, Ind., but was identified by the Justice Department as Herman Klerdorf.

Klerdorf unthinkingly spent last night in a room across the hall from that occupied by two federal men. Sleeping on the same floor was Herman Herbst, of Joliet, arrested with the other two and jailed on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

The room reservations were accidental on her part, Mrs. A. P. Richardson, owner of the hotel, declared. She said "Webber" had been there since Dec. 3, and that Herbst took a room last night.

When Knowles, Klerdorf and Herbst walked out of the hotel together today, four federal men and a North-west Mounted Police captain followed them. The trio became suspicious and started to run.

No shots were fired but one of the fugitives battled the agents in the street in the chase that followed. Knowles and Klerdorf were led to the hotel in handcuffs and placed under armed guard.

Their hotel room was searched later, and weapons and dark glasses such as are used in acetylene torch work were discovered.

They were taken to Chicago Department headquarters at Chicago several hours after their capture.

D. M. Ladd, head of the Chicago office, said he was not at liberty to comment on the case "just now."

At Washington, however, J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Justice Department, announced the arrests and identified the prisoners.

He said Knowles was believed to be one of the actual participants in the kidnaping, which occurred Aug. 14, 1934, while Labatt was on his way from his home in London, Ont., to Sarine in the same province.

The abduction plot was alleged to have been hatched in Detroit, at the Marquette Gardens, of which Klerdorf was owner, Hoover added.

SENATOR BORAH FAVORS STRICT U. S. NEUTRALITY

Franco - British Peace Proposal Attacked By Idahoan

Washington, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Arguing anew for strict American neutrality, Senator Borah (R-Ida.) today attacked the Franco-British proposal for ending the East African war as one that would elevate Mussolini above any man in Europe.

Borah, one of the irreconcilables who always has battled United States entry into the league of nations, issued a simultaneous warning against league acceptance of the plan to "dis-member Ethiopia" in exchange for immediate peace.

The proposal to grant Italy certain of the northern Ethiopian provinces, he said, would not only make it Duce Europe's "most powerful figure," but would give him even more than he asked in the beginning. If accepted by the league, he added, that organization would become "a subservient instrument of imperialism."

Another senator, who declined to be quoted by name, followed Borah's statement by attacking the peace plan verbally. The proposal, he said, was "worse than the old New Orleans slave market."

Coincidentally, spokesmen for the senate munitions committee made known that an inquiry into the influence that propelled the United States into the world war would get under way Jan. 6. J. P. Morgan, who was one of the backers in the United States for the allies, will be called as a witness along with other bankers to describe how American money was sent to Europe.

This, and other developments during the day, lent further strength to the likelihood of a lively congressional battle over neutrality next month.

A member of the munitions committee, who said he preferred to remain anonymous for the present, asserted he would work for mandatory neutrality legislation which would not only forbid exportation of munitions and war implements, but also would flatly ban loans and credits to belligerents and prohibit Americans from riding on ships of warring countries.

Selassie Says Italian Denials Audacious Lies
King Of Kings Declares American Hospital Was Bombed

By James A. Mills
With Emperor Haile Selassie at Dessaye, Ethiopia, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Ethiopia's emperor today called Italian denials of the bombing of the American hospital here last week "just audacious lies."

Haile Selassie, who experts said, probably owed his life to the fact that many of the bombs did not explode, declared:

"Italy makes itself out a downright hypocrite before the world by its denials regarding the bombing of the American hospital."

"The Italian aviators were perfectly aware of the crime they committed against humanity."

Replying to Italian charges that Red Cross insignia was displayed indiscriminately at Dessaye, the King of Kings asserted "the emblem only was on Red Cross hospital and tents."

He said the American hospital was known not only to the former Italian consul at Dessaye, but was registered with the International Red Cross at Geneva.

Technical experts who examined "dud" bombs today said 10 out of a dozen or more 250-pound projectiles dropped in the compound of the old Italian consulate where the Italians apparently believed the Emperor was staying did not explode.

Three incendiary bombs, however, partly wrecked the American hospital and two others fired a Red Cross tent. Straw huts of the natives bore the brunt of the damage, and authorities contended that all of the 350 persons who were killed or wounded were non-combatants.

Cash Relief Can Be Paid In State
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Attorney General Otto Kernor today ruled that cash relief may be paid from state funds provided the relief clients submit an itemized voucher.

He approved a form for the voucher submitted by Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, who asked for the opinion.

The person receiving cash relief would have to submit a budget and agree to use the funds for the purposes indicated.

Previously cash relief payments by the state have not been approved, but Kernor's opinion indicated that if a voucher were submitted to the state auditor's office, cash payments from state funds would be legal.

He said the auditor's office would have to approve each voucher, however, Bricker said.

MAYOR KELLY VISITOR IN WASHINGTON

Declares Discord In Democratic Ranks Exaggerated

Washington, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Asserting reports of discord in the Democratic ranks in Illinois had been "exaggerated," Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago said tonight he did not intend to discuss "local conditions" with President Roosevelt during his visit to Washington.

The mayor, who arrived today with Mrs. Kelly to attend the cabinet dinner at the White House tonight, described his visit to the capital as "without political significance."

"I don't believe I have much influence on the Republican national committee," he said, "but as mayor I'll do whatever I can and I'm hopeful the convention will be awarded to Chicago."

A delegation from the Chicago Association of Commerce will join Mayor Kelly Saturday. They plan to sound out party leaders in advance of the committee meeting.

Charles G. Dawes Predicts Stormy 1936 Campaign
Believes Uproarious Scenes Of '96 Will Be Reenacted With Money An Issue

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Gen. Charles G. Dawes predicted today that the campaign of '36 will reenact the stormy and uproarious scenes of '96.

There will be the same high fever of interest and feeling, the former vice president said, as in the days of the McKinley-Bryan battle, when "presidents of companies joined with stevedores in marching all day long."

Gen. Dawes said that as in 1896, sound money would again be the chief issue.

"There will be no compromise in the Republican party," he told the Republican round table luncheon.

"There is no room in the party for any who seek a compromise candidate. The campaign must first be a fight on the issues, and the candidate will fit the platform."

Attorney General John W. Bricker of Ohio, a Republican reelected in the 1932 Democratic landslide, told the luncheon audience the federal government has tapped many sources of revenue formerly the sole property of the states.

"Forty three new types of federal taxation have been added in recent years," Bricker said.

Archduke Otto May Be Called To Throne

By The Associated Press
Emperor Haile Selassie, although much of his kingdom is occupied by enemy troops, appeared certain Wednesday to reject a peace plan put forward by Great Britain and France.

Ethiopia's minister to Paris, told Premier Laval his country would resist any move to give a "premium for the Italian aggressor."

Officials in Ethiopia denounced the plan, saying its acceptance would cause a revolt forcing Haile Selassie from the throne. They were bitter toward France and incredulous that Britain had approved the plan.

Eden left for Geneva the formula evoked sharp disapproval. Smaller nations of the League of Nations said they would stand fast against any violation of Ethiopia's sovereignty and the League covenant.

Officials in Geneva were nettled because no copy of the plan was sent there, although it was dispatched to Rome and Addis Ababa.

In London British newspapers attacked the program and opposition in parliament continued. There were unconfirmed reports of a serious rift between Sir Samuel Hoare, foreign secretary who wrote the plan with Premier Laval, and Anthony Eden, Minister for League affairs.

"Smaller states let down by France and Britain," was one newspaper headline.

Eden left for Geneva, where a league committee is scheduled Thursday to take up the question of adding oil to the list of sanctions against Italy. But apparently this problem will be laid aside until answers have been received from Rome and Addis Ababa on the peace plan and Geneva has threshed the question out.

In contrast to Addis Ababa, Geneva and London, the plan appeared to have a favorable reception in Rome. Premier Mussolini received official copies of it and was expected to reply within a few days.

High Fascists said they expected it to form a basis for peace conversations.

It Duce's northern war machine in Africa was motionless until lines of supply can be set up to insure provisions for the 150,000 men. Amba Alagi, 40 miles south of Makale, will be the target of the next advance.

American missionaries issued a formal statement accusing Italy of insulting and ignoring the United States flag by bombing a hospital in Dessaye last week.

In Dessaye, Emperor Haile Selassie called Italian denials of the bombing of the American hospital "just audacious lies."

IERC Faced With Caring For Many Employables Soon
200,000 Will Be Taken Off Relief Rosts On January First

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Gov. Henry Horner and the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission faced the fact today that the 200,000 employable persons to be taken off IERC rolls by Jan. 1 would leave the state with 65,000 unemployed clients in addition to 65,000 unemployables still on state relief.

To meet the condition, the governor and commission said the federal government would be asked to absorb the extra 65,000 clients in the Works Progress Administration program. Horner said they did not discuss the possibility that federal officials would not accede to their request.

The increase was disclosed by the governor during a recess in a meeting with nearly all Chicago and Springfield IERC officials.

Present at the discussion of the newest of the series of problems which have confronted the IERC since the inauguration of the WPA program was John C. Martin, commission chairman; Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary; speaker of the house John Devine; director of finance Knowlton Ames; Col. William H. Sexton, of Chicago, a member of the commission, and Leo Lyons, Cook county relief administrator.

"It is apparent," the governor said, "that WPA has not done all we were asked it would. It has not taken care of all of Illinois' employables."

Archduke Otto May Be Called To Throne

By Louis Matshold
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Vienna, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Prince Ernst Von Starhemberg, Austria's powerful vice-chancellor, called for Austrian leadership of the Germanic nations in a startling challenge tonight to Adolf Hitler.

Then he opened the way for the restoration of the Hapsburgs by declaring the destinies of the nation and its one-time royal house were identical, and by asserting nothing stands in the way of the return of the Archduke Otto if he accepts the national program of the assassinated premier, Engelbert Dollfuss.

Monarchists have waged an increasingly active campaign for the ascension of Otto, 23 year old heir legitimate, who is living in Belgium. But recently certain followers of Von Starhemberg have begun to suggest that he, and not the archduke, be made regent and eventually king.

Von Starhemberg addressing the patriotic fatherland front organization, laid down a challenge to Hitlerism by asserting that ultimately Austrian beliefs must assume the control of central Europe.

"Those who believe they are Austrians but at the same time think Hitler is right," must change their minds," the vice chancellor warned.

"There is only one way to solve the question of Pan-Germanism. That is to give the leaderships to the Austrians. We can no longer think of a great German nation but we must strive for an Austrian Reich."

Seven Alleged Jewel Thieves Are Captured
Chicago Detectives Claim All Loot Has Been Recovered

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Seven men, one of whom Police Captain Daniel Gilbert termed a "little known member of the Dillinger gang," were seized today for the kidnaping and $55,000 holdup Sunday of Milton Jackson, vice president of a New York jewelry firm.

State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney said that three of the suspects were pointed out by Jackson as the men who robbed him. He asserted that virtually all the loot had been recovered.

The seven seized were: Meyer Bogus, 50, who was released from the Indiana state prison on Dec. 11, 1933, upon expiration of a one to three year sentence and who Gilbert said, is reputed to have been the money changer for the Dillinger gang.

James Brezak, 39, who was paroled from the Indiana prison after serving five years of a 10 year sentence for his part in the $21,000 robbery of the Maywood Trust and Savings bank at Hammond, Ind.

Harry Malin, 32, of suburban Cicero, who police said carried the jewelry cases in Sunday's robbery.

Patrick J. Sullivan, 40, Chicago bartender, said by police to have driven the robbers' car.

Irving Hornstein, 47, a former jeweler, who had been living at a Chicago hotel.

Meyer Gordon, 45, former Chicago jeweler and pawn broker.

Frank Fishaw, a clerk, whose connection with the gem robbery was not revealed by police.

All the men were seized by Capt. Gilbert and a squad in raids on a room in a Chicago hotel (Windsor), a south side tavern and Brezak's home.

Jackson and Joseph Raymond, 50, Chicago, a sample carrier, were robbed in the loop while they were touring the jewelry trade in preparation for the Christmas buying.

Two men, whom Jackson has since identified as Brezak and Malin, jumped from the running board of an automobile which stopped between him and Raymond. At pistol point, Jackson said, he was forced into the automobile and Raymond was ordered to remain quietly on the curb.

One of the men grabbed Raymond's sample case and jumped in to the car. A third man, he said, was driving.

On April 7, 1934, Jackson and Raymond were robbed of jewelry valued at $50,000 as they alighted from a street car in Chicago's loop.

Capt. Gilbert said tonight that Jacksonville pointed out Brezak, Malin and Sullivan at a police show-up as the three men who committed the robbery.

HOTEL BURNS
Decatur, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Flames early today razed a small hotel here, forcing twenty-one residents out into the freezing weather. Loss to the building was estimated at $39,000.

Richard Isaac, night clerk, discovered the blaze when smoke came pouring through from the basement. Fireman John Wallace was injured when he slipped on an ice-coated stairway while fighting the blaze.

SOCIAL SECURITY HOME RULE HITS SNAG IN HOUSE

Naval Parley is Threatened With Deadlock

London, Dec. 11.—(AP)—A deadlock threatened the internal naval conference tonight after Japan's demands for a fleet equal to that of the United States and Great Britain were formally put forward.

Admiral Osami Nagano, head of the Oriental delegation said a total tonnage basis for the three biggest sea powers should be fixed "as low as possible."

A French delegate, Jacques Stern, it was understood, told Admiral Nagano that naval strategists feel approval of Japan's demands would give Tokyo unquestioned naval supremacy in the far east, leaving the interests of other nations there at the mercy of the Japanese. Americans made no comment.

I. C. SPENCER CONVICTED BY ARIZONA JURY
Is Charged With Open And Notorious Co-habitation

Kingman, Ariz., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Twelve solemn-faced Arizona jurors reached a verdict in four hours late today, convicting I. C. Spencer of "open and notorious co-habitation" for his polygamous life at a strange cult in isolated Short Creek, Ariz.

The raw-boned Spencer, father of 13 children by two wives, was the first of three persons from that community, 400 miles away to be tried. No recommendation as to sentence was made. Three years imprisonment is possible.

"I have no fear whatsoever of going to the penitentiary," Spencer said when he heard the verdict.

"I have a clear conscience because I have been following the dictates of my religion."

"My father went to jail for the same thing in Utah many years ago," John P. Barlow, bishop of the Short Creek cult, declared.

"We are prepared to take this case to the United States Supreme Court, if necessary." He previously had called the state's action "religious persecution."

Spencer freely admitted that he has a wife and nine children in Utah and is the father of four other children by Sylvia Allred, whose trial has been postponed because of expectant motherhood. He said the practice of "plural wives" was a religion with him handed down by his father and grandfather.

The religious plea was assailed bitterly by County Attorney Elmo Belinger, who pointed out that although some religions teach human sacrifice that is murder in the state of Arizona.

The defense attorney, Victor Hayek, told the jurors that newspapers daily contain "stories that make you blush in comparison to this case."

Truck Driver Tortured By Degenerates
Hijackers Take Truck Loaded With Merchandise Valued At $5,000

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(AP)—An agent of the Department of Justice brought Leslie Law, 32, Detroit, Mich., to Chicago tonight to investigate his story told at Geneva, Ill., that hijackers took his truck with merchandise valued at $5,000, held him prisoner since Monday night and tortured him by burning his skin and hair with matches.

Law, driver for the express freight service of Milwaukee and Detroit told Deputy Sheriff Cecil Riley of Kane county that four men took his truck on Chicago's south side. Law, who said he was driving the shipment to Milwaukee, bore burns and bruises which he said were inflicted by the men in a house near Joliet, Ill.

Law declared that the men, whom Riley termed degenerates, scratched a cross on his chest, burned the hair off his head and burned the soles of his feet with matches.

Law said he was released by his captors near Sugar Grove, Ill., today and went to the farm home of Samuel Cornell, who notified the sheriff's office.

Law told Riley that he had been in the employ of the Freight Service for the last eight years. He said the truck was leased to the firm by Clifford Morris of South Bend, Ind., and was loaded with automobile parts, beer labels and Christmas cards.

BITTER ATTACK ON GOV. HORNER MARKS SESSION

Roll Call Is Halted On Children's Pension

By Curtis R. Hay
Associated Press Staff Writer
Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—The old issue of social security "home rule" today prevented the House from completing virtually all its work on the old age and children's pensions program.

The House was struck late in the day's session. After a bill establishing state controlled administration of the program had passed, F. W. Lewis, Robinson Democrat, was forced to halt the roll call on the dependent children's pension measure.

Acting as the administration floor leader on the program, Lewis, however, did not through the bill increasing the state appropriation for old age pensions from $5,000,000 to $9,000,000.

The stormy session was marked by bi-partisan attack on Governor Horner for a recent statement blaming the legislature for delaying the pension program. Several members made bitter personal attacks on colleagues.

The vote for passage of the old age administrative bill was 127 to 11. Most of the Republicans voted for the measure only after they had explained they were doing so, not because they liked the bill, but because they did not want Democrats informing their constituents that they had voted against old age pensions.

The bill provides appointment of county boards of three members by the state department of public welfare from nominations by county court judges. The present law provides appointment of boards of five by county judges, and Republicans charged that the state appointed boards would be politically controlled.

"An applicant will have to be a Democrat to get a pension," asserted Robert Branson, Centralia Republican. His statement was reiterated by several minority speakers.

T. M. Downing, Macomb Republican, voiced another principal argument of the minority when he said the bill would set up a "Springfield dictatorship comparable to the present state dictatorship over the state highway system."

Benjamin Adamowski, the majority floor leader, replied that the measure was necessary to get federal approval and assistance.

Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, Downers Grove Republican, sounded the battle cry of the Republicans on the children's pension bill. The roll call had reached her with little opposition evidenced against the measure when she jumped to her feet and asserted the bill robbed the county boards of supervision over dependent children.

Republicans who already had voted for the bill immediately began changing their vote and Speaker John P. Devine ordered a new roll call. A fourth of the way through the second vote the ballot stood 14 to 5 against the bill with many Democrats not voting.

Lewis asked postponement of the vote, and over the objection of the Republicans, Devine agreed to the suspension.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—When police arrived at the apartment of Marie Koonits, 38, today to question her about the passing of counterfeiter money they found her dead in bed.

She had been shot once in the chest by a .32 calibre pistol which lay near her. The door of the apartment had been locked, and police broke it down to get in.

Lawrence Parris, an ex-convict and a friend of the woman's, was arrested last night and identified, police said, as one of the men who had been passing bogus $10 and $20 bills. A taxi driver John La Barre, was also being held for the government.

SAUCES OFF YOUR GROCERS' SHELVES ARE INVALUABLE COOKING AIDS

BY MARY E. DAGUE

NEA Service Staff Writer

Prepared mustard, like many of the other prepared sauces on the market, has many more interesting possibilities than its general use as an accompaniment to ham and frankfurters. The next time you make a white sauce vegetable or a meat, add a little prepared mustard and see if it doesn't pep up the combination. Use it with cheese dishes. Include it in the seasonings for meat, loaves, and quiches. Add to all scalloped dishes. Spread lightly on meat and fish before cooking.

If you are looking for shortcuts in cooking, you will find one in the tomato sauce available in several good brands. This sauce really is a concentrated puree, containing all the substance of fresh ripe tomatoes. The fresh flavor is not altered by the addition of spices, and it saves both time and labor. The canned sauce may, of course, have seasonings added as wanted and a thinner sauce can be made by diluting it with stock or water.

Tomato Soup as Sauce

Canned tomato soup is another product that makes a superior sauce for mixtures you want highly seasoned. It is ready to reheat and use just as it comes from the can. Other concentrated soups, too, such as chicken, vegetable and meat and vegetable combinations can be used with equal effect.

A few drops of table sauces give subtle flavor to gravies and sauces, steaks, roasts, salad dressings, vegetable juice cocktails, aspics, croquette mixture and made dishes of all kinds.

Sauces and weak-looking second-stock soups acquire richness of color by the addition of a teaspoonful of pure or less as needed—of a new sauce with dark caramel foundation.

The secret of the richness of flavor which distinguishes dishes made by professional cooks often lies in the use of stock rather than milk or water. Canned consommé and bouillon are excellent instead of home-made stock.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Stewed dried apricots, cereal, cream, cornmeal pancakes. Brown sugar syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Cheese ramkins, lettuce sandwiches, apple turnovers, hot chocolate.

DINNER: Cream of tomato soup, salmon loaf with egg sauce, Martini-potatoes, cabbage and pineapple salad, old-fashioned bread pudding, milk, coffee.

and always are on hand when wanted. Bouillon cubes and meat extracts also provide a delicious well-flavored stock when dissolved in boiling water.

Bottled Sauces Keep Well
Catsups such as tomato, walnut and mushroom are invaluable bottled products that give zest to other sauces and add pungency to many oft-repeated combinations.

Covered and stored in the refrigerator, most of these sauces keep indefinitely. It costs so little to have them on hand and they mean so much to the art of seasoning every day fare that it will pay every home-maker to experiment in the realm of bottled sauces and make full use of them.

Livestock Reports At Bureau Meeting Show Much Activity

Marketing Association and Shipping Service are in Prosperous State

Service rendered by the Farm Bureau in promoting the raising and marketing of livestock in this county was set forth yesterday at the annual meeting in two reports, that of the Livestock Marketing Association and that of the Morgan County Shipping Service, given by the manager, Daniel Dietrich.

The livestock marketing report follows: The Morgan County Livestock Marketing Association is nearing the close of its second year. This organization has tried to work in a cooperative way with the Farm Bureau and all livestock producers of Morgan and surrounding counties. We have endeavored to arouse the interest of the importance of marketing livestock co-operatively, and to carry out a program of a promotional and educational nature.

The program for the year was outlined by the following: Three from the Morgan County Livestock Marketing committee, three from the Morgan County Shipping Service, and three from the Farm Bureau executive board.

On Jan. 4 several delegates of the marketing committee attended the annual meeting of the St. Louis Producers at East St. Louis, Ill.

March 23, delegates attended the annual meeting of the Illinois Livestock Marketing Association at Bloomington.

One of Leading Counties March 28, a business meeting was held by the marketing committee at which time officers for the year were elected. Lester E. Martin, chairman, and Roy E. Nickel, secretary. At this time the 1936 program was outlined to those present and it was unanimously voted to make Morgan county one of the leading counties of the state in livestock marketing work.

In May a week was given to Chester Moore, field man of the St. Louis Producers, to hold night meetings in behalf of cooperative livestock marketing. These meetings were held at Concord, Jacksonville, Litchberry, Waverly, and Rees Station. This was an outstanding week for all interested in producing and marketing livestock.

During the county fair in August, the livestock marketing committee had some two of the committee at the Farm Bureau tent throughout each day, taking a livestock census and working for the interest of livestock marketing.

A tri-county, Brown, Scott, and Morgan, livestock producer day was held in September at the Burns Bros. farm, at which time cattle, sheep, hogs, and veal calves were given special attention in the matter of grading and sorting as is done on the terminal market. This work was under the direction of the county livestock marketing committee, and the grading was in charge of the heads of their respective livestock department of the Producers Commission Association of National Stockyards, Ill. C. B. Denman, ex-president of the St. Louis Producers Commission Association was the main speaker. Several of the leading livestock marketing leaders of Illinois were there and took part in making the day a success.

Hold Feeding School Nov. 25, a livestock feeding and management school was held at the Farm Bureau office with E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist from the University of Illinois, as instructor. Several of the leading livestock marketing workers of the county were in attendance, and will throughout the winter bring this information to their own communities.

The last meeting for the year will be held in January as a poultry and produce day. Our county is in great need of poultry flock improvement and this day, I am sure, will be very beneficial to all that attend.

It has been the policy of this organization during the past to cooperate in every manner with the Morgan County Shipping Service in their endeavor to lower marketing cost.

We realize that livestock marketing is still in its infancy and there is great possibilities along this branch of cooperative organization. The only way that we can ever market our livestock efficiently is through organized channels. So, for our 1936 program we can only continue in a bigger and better way along a promotional and educational nature.

Shipping Service Report

The Morgan County Shipping Service has continued during the year—the co-operative grouping and shipping of livestock therein effecting a savings in marketing expenses and increasing the volume of livestock marketed through our Producer Agency at National Stock Yards.

The volume of livestock handled by the Shipping Service during the year has not been equal to the volume handled in 1934, however, the numbers are as follows: Cattle 1630, calves 562, hogs 16,865 and sheep 1849. This is a decrease in number of hogs, a slight decrease in cattle, but a substantial increase in calves and sheep; yet the value of all animals handled during this year equals the value of all animals handled during 1934.

In handling this number of livestock and making the saving in marketing expenses the Shipping Service demonstrates the benefits to be derived for marketing livestock co-operatively.

In accordance with the change made in the by-laws at the last annual meeting, Scott and Brown counties have each selected a member on the Board of Directors, Mr. Clyde Williams representing Scott County and Orlando S. Brown representing Brown County.

Gain New Friends

During the year the Shipping Service has gained many new friends in both Scott and Brown Counties as well as in our own county. Our neighboring county, Macoupin, recently organized a Shipping Service similar to our Shipping Service. It was recently announced that Illinois leads all other states in number of livestock marketed co-operatively. These things point to the increasing interest throughout the county in co-operative marketing.

The Shipping Service has made a total saving for the shipper during the past year amounting to $569.15, $257.86 of this amount is savings in insurance and the balance in savings in commission on group shipments. This is the net amount after all expenses, bank charges, office help and etc. have been paid. Inasmuch as the organization started out without any financial assistance whatsoever the Board of Directors felt that rather than refund $500.00 to the shippers this year that it would be well to keep the Association in a sound financial condition, and so voted at their last regular meeting.

We trust that this action meets with the approval of the entire membership, and when near normal receipts return we will be in a position to make a better showing to our membership.

Three Thousand Shipments It may be of interest to know that over 3,000 checks representing 3,000 shipments were made during the year totalling $365,328.00 in money.

We have not had a complete check of the total volume of livestock consigned from Morgan county during the past year. It is estimated that approximately 40% of all the livestock originating in Morgan county during the last year has been shipped co-operatively.

On behalf of the Morgan County Shipping Service I wish to personally thank every member for the very splendid co-operation that has been shown us during a period when all species of livestock was at a low ebb in production.

Plans are being made for the annual meeting of the Shipping Service to be held on Wednesday, December 18, at the First Baptist church. Charles Ewing, president of our National Livestock Marketing Assn. has been secured as the principal speaker and all those interested in livestock marketing will do well to attend this meeting and hear Mr. Ewing.

Farm Adviser's Report Shows Great Scope of Service to Agriculture

Morgan County Farm Bureau activities during 1935 have covered almost every phase of agriculture—its headquarters have been a clearing house and service center for hundreds of farmers and their families. A survey of the year's program, contained in the adviser's annual report, shows the Bureau rendered a diversified service that extended to every section of the county.

The adviser's report was presented by W. F. Coolidge yesterday at the annual meeting of the bureau, a series of facts and figures started by I. E. Paret and continued by Mr. Coolidge when he assumed charge only a few weeks ago.

During a nine month period the Farm Bureau received 6,143 telephone calls and 12,287 office visits, indicative of the part the organization plays in the agricultural life of the community. More than 5,000 persons attended Farm Bureau meetings during the nine months. Other figures are equally as impressive in revealing the scope of the bureau's program. The advisers report for the year follows:

Crops

A seed survey was made of the county and the results published in the "News Letter." Several hundred samples of seed corn, oats, soy beans and popcorn were tested at the office. Advice was given and treatment furnished for the various seeds. Seven days of the farm adviser's time was spent on this work, 46 news articles published and 500 office calls received.

On small grains, legumes and forages, 2350 days were spent by the farm adviser giving advice on pasture mixtures, time of cutting alfalfa, methods of curing and reseeded. Two hundred news articles were published, nearly 1500 office calls received and 6 farm visits made.

Fruits

The farm adviser answered inquiries received from 150 persons relative to pruning, spraying and fertilization of orchards. Four days was given to this work and one farm visit made, one circular letter mailed out and 25 news articles published.

One orchard meeting was held at Schleker Bros. farm with the farm adviser assisting V. C. Kelley of the Extension Department of the University of Illinois. Eighteen interested fruit growers attended this meeting.

Soils

Eight and one-half days were spent on soils, 38 news articles published, 6 farm visits made and approximately 331 office calls received. Eight hundred and fifty samples of soils were tested for acidity and phosphate. Four hundred and twelve tons of limestone were ordered through the office.

The farm adviser assisted F. A. Fisher in soil erosion discussions at Jacksonville Rotary, Kiwanis and High school. Assisted in locating a site for the CCG camp, and held a city-country group meeting with Capt. Nickerson, Pittsfield, informing those who attended of the work being done by the CCG camps relative to soil erosion. The local farmers' committee consists of the following men: F. A. Seymour, F. H. Rolf, Wm. K. Randall, Willard F. Dodsworth, John Maloney, Chester Thomason, Fred Six and M. M. Barlow.

Rodents, Insects and Weeds

Three hundred fifty office calls were received and inquiries answered on chinch bugs, cut worms and army worms. A strong infestation of army worms scattered over the entire county occupied much of the adviser's time. Control measures were published in papers and poison for preparing bait was furnished at the office.

Numerous inquiries were received at the office relative to the identity of various weeds. Five and one-half days were spent by the farm adviser on this work and 30 news articles published.

Agricultural Engineering

The tenth annual Rees Tractor Meet was held at Rees Station on Tuesday, Aug. 6, with a crowd of 4,000 in attendance. Twenty-four different makes of tractors were entered in competition. Three ladies, two boys and twenty adults participated. Six trophy cups were awarded the winners. Three hundred individuals assisted in the project. It might be well said that this is the largest individual project directed by the farm adviser here. A. L. Young, R. C. Hay of the Farm Mechanics Department, University of Illinois, and A. R. Cleaver of the U. S. Department of Agriculture assisted with the judging.

Four days of the farm adviser's time was devoted to this project, 26 news articles published, 5 farm visits made and 150 office calls received.

Poultry

Two hundred fifty office calls were received and inquiries answered relative to disease control in baby chicks, as well as the older birds. Various poultry remedies are furnished by the office for the control of diseases, insects and worms. Five days were given to this project.

Dairy Cattle

Numerous farmers listed their names at the Farm Bureau to be sent to Dr. Lintner, Chicago, for contracts on abortion control. Many calls were received relative to the county-wide tuberculosis test. The farm adviser spent 4 days, published 15 news articles, and made 3 farm visits. One circular letter was mailed by the office.

Sheep

O. A. White of the St. Louis Producers assisted the farm adviser in holding three lamb grading demonstrations at the farms of E. E. Hart, Mrs. Nora Barthelme and Otis Timmons. One hundred farmers attended these meetings. Four days, 150 office calls and 6 farm visits made. Four circular letters mailed out.

Horses

Approximately two-fifths of all the horses in the county were treated for bot control during the months of January and February. Four days, 30 news articles, 300 office calls and 3 farm visits made. One circular letter mailed.

Livestock Marketing

Thirteen and one-half days were devoted to the livestock marketing program, 59 news articles published, 3 farm visits made and 400 office calls received.

Fourteen meetings were held relative to livestock marketing, 6 mass meetings with a representative of the St. Louis Producers were held at Concord, Litchberry, Jacksonville, Woodson, Franklin and Waverly. The farm adviser served on a state committee which was appointed for the purpose of working out a coordinated program for cooperative livestock marketing. Six meetings were held by the committee at Springfield and Chicago.

Grain Marketing

Three days of the farm adviser's time was spent on grain marketing, 20 news articles published, 2 farm visits made and 131 office calls received.

The adviser attended the Farmers Elevator meeting at Woodson, held one soy bean marketing meeting and one cooperative district grain meeting was held at Jacksonville with 55 attending.

Cream Marketing

One meeting was held at Hickory Grove school for the purpose of promoting a producers cooperative creamery. The farm adviser devoted two days to cream marketing, made 3 farm visits, published 10 news articles, sent out one circular letter and received 75 office calls.

Public Problems

Cooperated with the Illinois Emergency Drought Relief office in listing buyers and sellers of livestock living within the confines of Morgan county. Answered numerous inquiries relative to drought relief loans available. Two circular letters mailed, 100 office calls received, 1 farm visit made and 1 day devoted to this subject.

Outlook

One outlook meeting held at Jacksonville, with 35 in attendance. Fifty office calls were received, 1 circular letter mailed, 15 news articles published, 44 days spent by the farm adviser and 2 days by specialists of the University of Illinois.

Community Activities

Five community units held regular meetings during the winter months. 32 circular letters were mailed out, 350 office calls received and 60 news articles published. The farm adviser spent 9 days on this work and attended many of their meetings.

Farm Records

On Jan. 10, 1935, 27 farm account books were completed by Morgan county farmers. Six new beginners were given books at the school of instruction held on Jan. 10.

In May, 1935, with the assistance of P. E. Johnstone of the College of Agriculture, 27 completed farm account summaries were returned to account keepers.

The farm adviser spent 51 days of his time on farm account work, 17 news articles were published, 30 farm visits made and 122 office calls received.

4-H Club Work

Eleven and one-half days of the farm adviser's time was spent on club work during the nine months period. Seventy-three news articles were published, 581 office calls received and 24 circular letters mailed.

Two training schools for boys were held with G. S. Randall of the University of Illinois in charge. Twelve boys' clubs were organized with an enrollment of 125.

The complete schedule of 4-H club activities was carried out during the summer, tours, judging contests, demonstrations, picnic and district contests. The final achievement program was held at the high school auditorium Nov. 2 with an approximate attendance of 700.

Organization and Program

Twelve meetings of the executive board were held during the year. Seven meetings were held by the office personnel group. The farm adviser accompanied by two club leaders and one dairyman attended the Farm and Home week sessions.

Twenty-two and one-half days were devoted to organization, 50 news articles, 14 circulars mailed and 250 office calls received.

AAA Wheat and Corn-Hog

Regular educational meetings were held at 15 points in the county. Eight hundred and eighty-four farmers expressed themselves on the question at the referendum on May 25.

The farm adviser acted in an advisory capacity relative to the wheat and corn-hog programs, 38 circular letters were mailed on wheat 63 on the corn-hog program, nearly 3,000 office calls were received to obtain checks, and many inquiries were answered relative to compliance and use of land. Fifty-three days were spent on this part of the program, 150 news articles published.

Forage Purchases

The farm adviser assisted John Lentz of the Federal Forage Conservation Department 31 days, listing forages for sale and shipping out contracted corn stover. Fourteen articles published and 120 office calls received. General Comments and Recommendations

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, rank and the world looks pink. Laxatives are only make-shifts. A new bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. 121 Pounder Named to Get Winchester's Gold Football

Winchester, Dec. 11.—A 121-pound youth who tops the school in scholarship work, who didn't miss a single minute of play during the football season, who climbs over hurdles during the track season, and who plays forward on the basketball team, receives the most valuable player trophy, awarded by the Jacksonville Journal and Courier this year.

He is Virgil Coughlin, a quiet, meek appearing youth who uses his head to get him where he wants to go, and height to get other players. How a youngster of his size can stand 48 minutes of grueling football, take part in many of the activities of the school, remain on the honor roll all the time, and apparently have time to talk things over with his friends, has been one of the child's sort of wonderment here.

He did it this year, when, as signal caller and halfback, he went through every minute of every game on the Winchester high football schedule. No opponents ever came around who were big enough to keep the mite sized package of ambition out of the game through a business tactics. He has the slight weight to the running attack with excellently placed blocks —he had to place them excellently to make them stick. Defensively, he was the surest tackler on the squad, and as a result played in the safety position on defense.

Only 5 feet and a half tall, Coughlin was one of the outstanding men in the Wildcat forward passing attack. Winchester, because of its small and light team this year, devoted more than the usual amount of its time to tossing the ball, too. He was the key man, at times throwing, at other times receiving, and when not doing either of these, either acting as a decoy, or protecting for the pass taker.

Coughlin has other interests aside from football—he is usually the leading scorer on the basketball team, placed in the hurdle race at the Jacksonville district track and field meet last year, and is a quartermiler. Probably if Winchester had a baseball team, he would be one of the boys on the infield and one of the surest hitters on the team.

"This year's gold football winner is rated by the Winchester high faculty as being one of the five highest in citizenship rating. He's not big—but he's good."

town. He still has a year of eligibility. His parents live in Kentucky.

Philadelphia is planning to attempt to induce the Army and Navy authorities to hold the 1936 service classic in the municipal stadium, on the grounds that it can be enlarged to seat 120,000 persons. That's just about 50 per cent more than were able to get seats for this year's Army maneuvers.

California teams are going to allow the eastern teams to have their track and field meet all to themselves this year. They are going to stay on their own side of the Rockies.

Red Grange is being boomed for head football coach at the University of Florida. Grange was associated with the Chicago Bears during their latest season.

And the press wire the other day did carry a note to the effect that Hank Greenberg is stepping out with Mary Kirk Browne, one time friend of Max Baer's. By the way—where is Baer? On second thought, just skip it.

Harry Grayson, NEA sports editor, has taken up the pen in behalf of Jesse Owens. Grayson claims Owens is getting a dirty deal in being left out of the list of nominees for the Sullivan Memorial award to the most outstanding amateur athlete.

Owens was included in the first draft of the nominees, but was eliminated later, because, it is charged, he acted as a page boy in the Ohio legislature. Owens was cleared by three different investigating bodies of any charges that he was receiving money under false pretenses.

Owens, it will be recalled, broke three world records during the spring track season, and tied another, all on the same day. Such a performance has never been seen, and likely will not occur again in another century.

OHIO BOY PLAYS ON TEAM DESPITE LEG

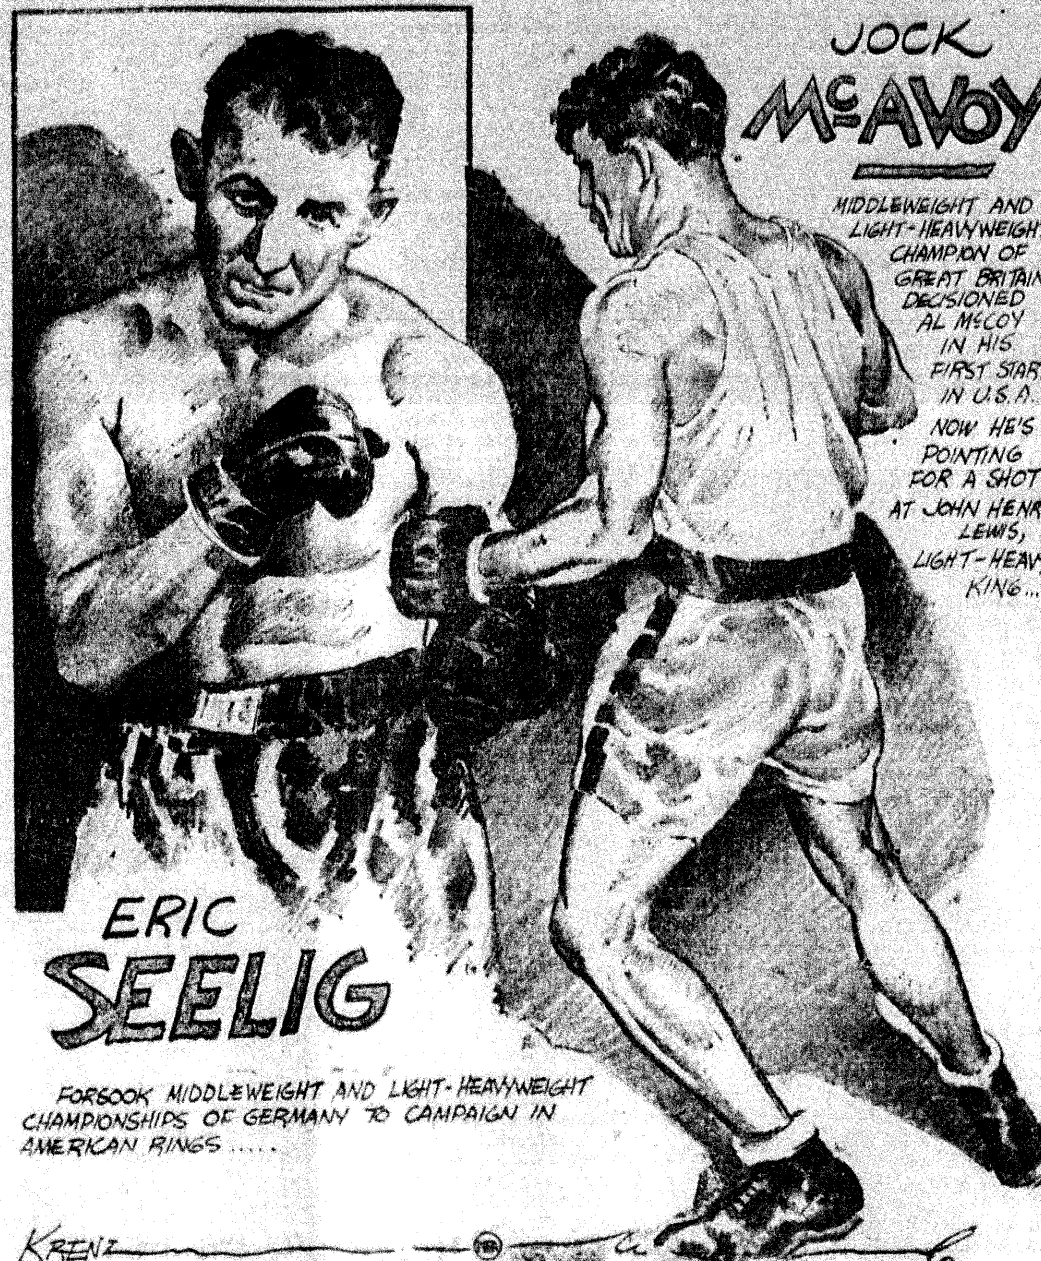

Coach Didn't Know Youth Had Artificial Leg

Powhatan, O. (AP)—Young Fred Kueker, who was too lame to get an artificial leg hamper his gridiron career, gets all the votes for captain of Powhatan High's 1936 squad.

Coach Leverne Ault after the election last night remarked about his star guard: "I didn't know he had such a handicap until one day I told him to crouch low in the line. Then his secret came out."

"Fred is an inspiration to every boy on the team. He played every quarter of our eight-game schedule this year."

New York Yanks End Hectic 24 Hours of Bargaining by Trading Allen For Pearson

By Paul Mickelson.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Chicago, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Blocked at every turn in their frantic attempts to match the baseball shopping spree of the Boston Red Sox and the world's championship Detroit Tigers, the New York Yankees today ended a hectic 24 hours of bargaining by a straight pitching swap with Cleveland.

Under the terms of the deal, which left baseball men arguing as to which team got the better of the bargain, the Yankees traded Johnny Allen to the Indians for Monte Pearson and Steve Sundra, a Cleveland rookie who pitched for Minneapolis and Newark last season. All three hurlers are right handers.

After the deal was announced, Manager Joe McCarthy, a little weary of the cold shoulder he has been getting from rival owners each time he intended to keep on trying. He admitted something more than the acquisition of Pearson and Sundra was necessary to keep even with the Red Sox, who have purchased Jimmy Foxx and John Marcum, and the Tigers, who got Al Simmons.

Allen regarded as a great pitching star in 1932 when he made his debut and 27 victories as against 4 defeats and then followed through by winning 13 and dropping 7 in '33, has been little value to McCarthy since then. The fact is that Allen probably the number one enemy of the American League umpires because of his stormy disposition, and McCarthy do not get along well together. Pearson, with the Indians four seasons, had his greatest year in 1934 when he won 18 and lost 13. Last season he won 8, lost 13, while Allen won 15 and dropped 8. Sundra, 23 years old, won 8 and lost 5 for Minneapolis and then won 5 out of 8 for Newark.

Steve O'Neill, manager of the Indians, developed Allen while manager to Toronto and later sold him to the Yankees. He said he never encountered any trouble handling the temperamental pitcher and that he welcomed his addition to the Indian staff.

The biggest deal of the day, featured otherwise by a new major league rule prohibiting all barnstorming 10 days after the close of the season, fell through when the Philadelphia Athletics demanded $25,000 in cash and Outfielder Chuck Klein, their old idol, in exchange for Pitcher Curt Davis. The Phillies all so wanted a pitcher, either Pabian Kowalik, Roy Henshaw or Tex Carleton. Manager Charlie Grimm, keen for another starting pitcher, finally threw up his hands and said it was all off. They may yet get together.

His hands unclipped at last, through the transfer of the Boston Braves to the leadership of Bob Quinn, Manager Bill McKechnie was reported ready to throw his great outfielder star, Wally Berger, on the market for bait. McKechnie, naturally, wants plenty for Berger in cash and players and probably will get all he demands.

The St. Louis Cardinals, fearful every time they hint a deal because some one figures some one else is going to get the worst of the bargain, were idle. So was Bill Terry of the Giants, who gave up in disgust and returned to New York.
By the united action against barnstorming, none of the world series players can compete in post-season games as the series takes up the 10 day limit. Club owners, furious because some of their stars barnstorming to Japan and other points east and west, were unanimous in the action.

Louis Certain He Can Whip Uzcudum

By Eddie Brist.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
New York, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Joe Louis, the slickest piece of fighting machinery since Jack Dempsey was riding high, wide and handsome 15 years ago, is confident he will stop Paulino Uzcudum in six rounds or less when they meet in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

One of the largest indoor fight crowds in history is assured. It looks like a sell out and that means approximately 20,000 persons will be squeezed into the garden. A capacity house will bring a gate of around $120,000 or $125,000.

Interest in the 15 round event is surging, considering the Louis is a top heavy favorite. The garden has requests for more than 300 press reservations from out of town.

What money is being wagered favors the young negro, making his 26th professional start, to score a decisive victory well under ten rounds, but not to send the 35 year old Spaniard down for the count.

Paulino has fought in this country on numerous occasions and right footers have a wholesome respect for his sturdy jaw. In 69 ring battles, the woodchopper has never been jolted from his feet.

Louis has won 21 of his 25 professional fights with sleep producers. Both battlers wound up hard work today at their training camps at Pompton Lakes, N. J., and Orangeburg, N. Y.

"Every time Joe has fought he has met and whipped somebody a little tougher than the man before," said John Roxborough, one of the promoters. "He was better against Max Baer than he was against Primo Carners. And he'll be better against Paulino. We'll bet there's at least one knockdown. Joe says he's going to knock him out."

Johnny Revolta Wins Golf Money

Sarasota, Fla., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Johnny Revolta, the P.G.A. titleholder, blazed down the stretch in a champion's final today to beat the Bobby Jones club course record with a 65 and snatch first money in the Sarasota open golf tournament.
Five strokes behind Alvin Krueger of Troy, Wis., the 34 hole leader, Revolta swept past the field in a late finish and scored a 274.

Victor Chezzl of Deal, N. J., came home second with 76.
The victory was worth $500 to Revolta, who started his winter tour money to Bobby Cruikshank of Richmond, Va., in a playoff.

Faltering on the last two rounds after showing his heels throughout the early stages, Krueger finally carded a 279 and had nothing better than a tie for fifth money.
Paul Runyan, the dependable White Plains, N. Y., stylist, was third at 277 and Jimmy Hines of Garden City, Long Island, tied for fourth, a stroke back of Runyan, with Bill Melhorn of Louisville, Ky.

The sensational final round of Revolta was one stroke better than Krueger's performance yesterday when he hung up the official course record at 66.
Low amateur score was posted by Morton McCarthy of Norfolk, Va. He clipped three strokes from par in the final round with a 68 and had an aggregate of 284.

J. T. Meyers represented the Winchester community in Jacksonville yesterday.

Ten Men Charged With Rioting Are Fined $150 Each

Reports That Men Who Entered Pleas Were Drawn By Lot Reach Judge

Kewanee, Ill., Dec. 11.—(AP)—Ten men charged with rioting which grew out of a strike at the Boss Glue Company's plant here on Oct. 14 pleaded guilty today before Circuit Judge Leonard E. Telleen at Cambridge and were fined $150 each.
Smaller charges against nine others were nolle prossed by State's Attorney Martin E. O'Connor.

Reports that the 10 who pleaded guilty were drawn by lot among the 19 defendants reached O'Connor and Judge Telleen tonight and both denied knowledge of any such procedure.

The pleas were entered by the 19 men after two days had been spent selecting a jury. After selection of the jury was completed and Prosecutor O'Connor made his opening statement, a conference was held between the attorneys for both the state and defense.

Defense attorneys were Joseph A. Padway, Milwaukee, general attorney for the Milwaukee Federation of Labor; T. S. Lewis, Benton, Ill. attorney for the union to which the defendants belonged; and James Andrews, Kewanee, head of the Illinois old age pension board.

Reports were that the drawing took place in a law library adjacent to the court room after which the 10 losers appeared before Judge Telleen and were fined.

Judge Telleen, reached at his home tonight, said:
"The 10 men who pleaded guilty were decided upon at a conference with the prosecutor and defense attorneys. They did not resort to the drawing of names."

"Leaping" Lena Is Adjudged Insane

Chicago, Dec. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Lena Krakow Levy, 42, sister and manager of "Kingfish" Levinsky, heavyweight fighter, was adjudged insane today and ordered committed to the state asylum at Kankakee.

She was committed by Judge Albert Isley of Newton, Ill., now sitting in county court, at a hearing conducted in Mrs. Levy's room at the Cook county psychopathic hospital, where she was taken Dec. 4 by the "Kingfish" and two other brothers.

The "King" and his brother, Sam Krakow, testified that Lena had been that in a law library adjacent to the court room after which the 10 losers appeared before Judge Telleen and were fined.

Skilled Drivers' Club
The report of the Skilled Drivers' Club was given by the chairman, Miss Catherine Stevenson. The organization was formed Aug. 22 and began at once the instruction of farm young people in the principles of safe driving. It holds meetings every two weeks, with Lloyd Hess as the director. In the first round of lessons Miss Louise Blumling of Murrayville, and Lee Ward, of this community, were chosen driving champions in tests given by state police. This far no member of the club has been involved in a traffic accident.

Twenty-seven young people have passed safe driving tests. The club is planning to start another large class the first of the year and hopes for a membership of one hundred. The club sponsored a safety quiz late in the week ago. Of 225 cars tested 151 were found to have defective lights, brakes or something that would hinder safe driving. The club members gained some facts relative to the cause of accidents.

Insurance Report

L. T. Oxley, insurance manager for the Farm Bureau, reported an increase in business for the year. His department sponsored a lynch contest last spring, which was won by Miss Louise Blumling. Until July the department had charge of the Morgan county Shipping Service, which at that time was taken over by Daniel Dietrich.

Mr. Oxley reported insurance policies in force in his company for this county as follows: Life $70, automobile $90, fire $26, tornado $75, hail $18, employers liability $0. Life insurance in force totals $1,545,000, of which $244,750 has been written during the past twelve months. All of this insurance has been written at an approximate saving to policyholders of $13,000 a year. The company has handled 238 traffic accident claims during the year, of which 218 have been due to collisions.

Organization Report

David Reynolds, county organization director, had a most encouraging report. On Dec. 1, 1934, the Bureau had a membership of 1,094; it now has

All persons having claims against the county are requested to file same by Saturday noon, December 14. F. W. Brockhouse, County Clerk.

City firemen who are engaged in rehabilitating broken toys to be distributed among children of the city at Christmas time have received a few playthings for repairing, but need many more. Persons who have toys that are no longer in use, and are not needed, are urged to either take them to the fire department or notify the firemen in order that they may arrange them for holiday distribution.

If the playthings have been broken and can be fixed the firemen will repair them and thus provide toys for needy children. The firemen will welcome any donations.

Christmas Program Will Be Given by White Hall Church

Pageant with Large Cast of Adults, Children, Next Sunday Night

White Hall—The Christmas program at the Methodist church extends all through the month of December with special presentations each Sunday night. The chief event will be the annual pageant given next Sunday night, December 15, by a cast of about 25 adults and a group of children. It is entitled "Upon the Star Shone" and the scene is laid in Bethlehem on the evening of the first Christmas.

After a prologue introducing the symbolic characters, Prophecy and History, the pageant depicts Rabbi Nathan, who has just returned from a visit to Jerusalem, telling his family about the visit of the three Magi which had occurred while he was in the city. As they talk over this, they are interrupted by a group of shepherds from the nearby hills who come in to tell their wonderful experience with the angels, and their visit to the new born child at the Bethlehem stable. A little later the three Wise Men appear and the whole company goes out singing to find the new born Messiah.

The vocal numbers by the different groups and the choruses by the whole company add much to the effectiveness of the production. The pageant will be directed by Rev. A. E. Linfield, the music by Mrs. O. M. Cherry and Miss Mildred Morrow is organist.

The following is the cast in order of their appearance:
Prophecy—Irene Livingston.
History—Mary Gardner.
Water Carriers—Mrs. Burchfield, Mrs. Emma Spears.

The White Hall Domestic Science club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Bridgewater on Jacksonville street, with Mrs. George Dyer and Mrs. W. A. Riggs assisting. The meeting was opened by singing "Holy Night," in unison with Mrs. L. W. Hornbeck, the music chairman, leading. Mrs. Nora Mason offered special prayer and read the inspirational poem appropriate to the Christmas season. Roll call was answered with "My First Christmas Recollection," and routine business was transacted. One dollar was voted to the Salvation Army Christmas fund.

Mrs. H. B. Anderson read an article "Message of the Star," Mrs. Hornbeck sang a solo, "Glad Tidings." The club sang "Jingle Bells" and this was followed by a round table discussion "Is There a Santa Claus?" A Christmas tree and gift exchange was then enjoyed and the hostesses served refreshments.

Dr. J. M. Jackson, Ernest Roadhouse, Norman Davis and L. R. Davis, of this city, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Day of West Roadhouse, and C. W. State to Lose 20 Millions to WPA

Federal Government to Take Back Part of Allocation

Chicago, (AP)—The Illinois Works Progress Administration was put on notice today that $20,000,000 allocated for use in this state would be withdrawn by the federal government, Illinois has been allotted more than $20,000,000.

At present rates of expenditures, the money available will carry the program no further than March, Burke said. Projects now under way will account for virtually all the money, though projects approved total at least $20,000,000.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
After the death of her parents, DANA came to live with her aunt, Mrs. Lillian Cameron.

Dana's half-sister, NANCY WALLACE, resented Dana's coming to live with her aunt. She was jealous of her young granddaughter, and she was jealous of Dana's success.

Dana, however, has become attracted to DILL SCOTT STANLEY, a young man who is a student at the University of Chicago. He is a brilliant student and a very attractive young man.

Thinking he is pleasing Dana, Scott rents the small cottage he owns on a spot near the university. Dana hides her disappointment.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XIX

DANA looked up at Scott. "We're going to be happy here," she told him.

"You've got the tense wrong, honey," he replied. "We are happy here. Now I must dash. Dana. Do you think you can find something to keep you busy for a while?"

"With all that unpacking to do!" "I'll bring the traveling bags up."

After Scott had gone Dana sat to work, her enthusiasm mounting. The kitchen was not gloomy. It was bright. The sun was pouring in at the window, and an extra brightness was achieved by light walls. The gas stove, like everything else, was new.

"I'll get some of that pretty enamelware down town, probably green," Dana mused. It was going to be fun shopping to equip her kitchen.

"I always wanted to be turned loose on a buying orgy in a five-and-dime store," Dana admitted to herself, thinking of the bills Scott had tucked into her purse on the drive in from the country.

He had said she'd probably need a little change to start house-keeping. They had been rather large bills, Dana had discovered—much larger than she could afford to hand out carelessly like that.

"I'll show him how long money can last," she thought.

The packing didn't require much time, and with her tour of inspection completed, Dana was lonely. "I'll do some of that shopping now," she decided impulsively. "I'll take a street car and have the packages sent out."

Shopping was all she had anticipated. Clerk entered enthusiastically into her mood as she selected kitchen spoons, sifter, measuring can, pans, baking dishes. It was surprising how much one small apartment kitchen could require.

There was a big hole in one of the larger bills, but Dana told herself such purchases lasted for years and years. So many of the articles seemed essential to prepare the evening meal. She decided to take some of them with her and then have groceries sent out. Scott would be surprised to find dinner ready the first night in her new home.

Bauer Approves Associate Engineer For Project Here

Notifies Mayor F. J. Blackburn Action Of Council Satisfactory

Approval of Walter S. Bemis, Chicago, as associate engineer to work with the Caldwell Engineering company of this city, on plans for a waterworks project for Jacksonville, was given in a letter received here yesterday by Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn, from C. H. Bauer, state director of PWA. Mr. Bauer, in his letter, stated that the resolution adopted last Saturday by the city council, in special session here, was satisfactory and that the appointment of Mr. Bemis as aid to the local engineering company had received the approval of his office.

An amended application for funds for the purpose of rehabilitating the local water plant and for the construction of a new reservoir for the city will be forwarded at once in an effort to secure reinstatement of the approval of the waterworks project here. The project was originally planned and received PWA approval, but this action was later rescinded.

Subsequently Mayor Blackburn was advised by Mr. Bauer to amend the application and instruct the Caldwell company, which has the waterworks project contract with the city, to engage an associate engineer. Director Bauer instructed the mayor that it would be necessary that the associate engineer be not only satisfactory to the engineering company, but to the city and the PWA as well.

The name of Walter S. Bemis was presented for consideration of the council last Saturday by H. L. Caldwell. The aldermen adopted a resolution giving approval of the appointment and the resolution was forwarded to Director Bauer who yesterday notified his satisfaction. Mr. Bemis is to serve without any expense to the city, his remuneration to be provided by the Caldwell company.

Record Membership Reported at Annual Gathering in City

More than eleven hundred Morgan County Farm Bureau members and their wives gathered here yesterday for the eighteenth annual dinner and meeting of the organization.

David Reynolds, county organization director, announced at the business session yesterday that the Farm Bureau now has a membership of 1,107, the largest in the history of the county. He presented to President Frank J. Flynn the 1100th contract, that of Fred Knecht of the Arenzville community, and gave public recognition to the men who have signed up new members during the past year.

Jacksonville township has made the largest gain, 48 new members. Elmer Nicholson is the organization director in this township. All departments of the Farm Bureau reported a prosperous year, with many gains.

The meeting opened with President Flynn in the chair. Rev. Glenn J. Schillerstrom, pastor of State Street Presbyterian church, gave the invocation.

President Reviews Work
Mr. Flynn then made his opening address, reviewing the work of the past year in the following remarks:

"This is the eighteenth annual meeting of the Morgan County Farm Bureau. To all who are interested in the progress of farm organizations, it is gratifying to note the steadily increasing scope of its activities and services, and the phenomenal records of achievement in the various departments. Records in all of our subsidiary organizations were broken in the business of the past twelve months."

"The organization director has more Morgan county farmers on Farm Bureau contracts than at any time in the history of our organization."

"The Service company has broken all records on volume of products handled—also on the total amount of money paid back to Farm Bureau members."

"The Insurance department has written more life insurance, more auto insurance, more hail, more fire, and more wind insurance than it has in any other year."

Proud of 4-H Clubs
"Turning to the extension service side of our program, we are justified in being proud of our 4-H clubs, with more clubs and more members than ever before. For the first time, we are honored by having two of our boys chosen as state champions. There are 30 champions selected out of 18,000 club members in the state."

"I shall not take time from other men who are prepared to make detailed reports, except to mention by name other splendid projects sponsored and promoted by the Farm Bureau, such as the Rees plowing match—the livestock grading demonstration at the Burrus farms—the seed demonstration plots at the A. M. Masters farms—the organization and development of the Skilled Drivers club. This is an organization of young folks between 16 and 22 years of age, formed for the purpose of studying traffic rules and regulations, and the proper and safe methods of handling an automobile. It is impossible to measure its benefits."

Publish News Letter
"Another achievement of the past year well worthy of mention is the change in our monthly publication from the little news letter to the Morgan County Farmer, ranking among the finest of the Farm Bureau publications in the state. All of you can help to maintain the standard of this magazine by recognizing and patronizing its advertisers."

"These few records of achievement merely indicate the possibilities of a group of men working together and encourage us to strive to build a larger, and even better, organization which, when properly managed and directed, will enable us to meet and conquer problems, which tend to retard us in reaching our ideal in happiness and rural prosperity."

Secretary's Report
Secretary Wallace Hembrough next read the minutes of the previous annual meeting, which were approved by the membership. The secretary's report followed, in which Mr. Hembrough reviewed the work of the board of directors in the twelve regular meetings of the year. Attendance at these meetings averaged 85%, which bespeaks a genuine interest on the part of the directors. Five members of the board attended every regular meeting and four of the five were present at every special meeting.

Mr. Hembrough next gave the treasurer's report, reading from the audit of the books made by the I. A. A. Auditing Association. It showed payment of dues amounting to $8,422.89, with the total income of the organization for the year $8,962.89. The net worth of the Farm Bureau was reported as $15,464.34.

The secretary reported the resignation in August of I. E. Parett as farm adviser and the coming of the new adviser, W. F. Coolidge, in November. The secretary also read the committees who have been serving during the past year and will continue service until the new board of directors in January, as follows:

The organization meeting of Directors was held on January 7th. Officers elected were F. J. Flynn, President; Wilbur Williams, Vice-President; and Wallace T. Hembrough, Secretary-Treasurer. I. E. Parett was re-elected as Farm Adviser and Clara B. Murgatroyd as office secretary.

Wilbur Williams, Fred Scholfield and Donald Ransdell were named delegates to the Annual I. A. A. meeting at Quincy with F. A. Seymour, Allen Smith and T. H. Roe as alternates.

A committee reported in regard to the plan of work for the coming year. Reports were given for the Service (Continued on Page Seven)

Students Of J. H. S. Enjoy Lecture On Life Of Mark Twain

Acquaintance Of Writer Gives Talk Here Wednesday

An intimate word picture of some of the best known of the characters created by Mark Twain was presented to the J. H. S. students yesterday afternoon by Morris Anderson, chairman of the centennial celebration at Hannibal for the American writer.

In addressing the assembly, Mr. Anderson drew upon his own acquaintance with relatives and descendants and even with some of the characters themselves to present a graphic description of the life in the Hannibal district at the time of Twain's boyhood.

The story of his discontinuance of school to become a printer's apprentice, and subsequent activities which lead finally to the time when such books as "Tom Sawyer" made him world famous, was briefly sketched by the speaker. Following this introduction, Mr. Anderson gave character sketches of the real people whom Twain introduced in his writings as Huckleberry Finn, Becky Thatcher, Joe Harper, Widow Douglas, Aunt Polly, and others. Twain himself was Tom Sawyer.

Mr. Anderson concluded by telling of the commencement exercises at Missouri State University where he was awarded his graduating degree and at which Mark Twain received an honorary degree. The ovation and applause which was given to the author at that time symbolized the respect and affection which the readers of his books the world over held for him.

The address was interspersed with humor and was presented in a very attractive manner.
